VCR Plus+

The One-Step Way To Program Your VCR

In the evening and weekend listings in this issue of Visions, you will see two numbers after the description of each program. These numbers are for the convenience of viewers who own VCR Plus+™, the one-step programming device for VCRs.

The VCR Plus+ works with most wireless remote VCRs and cable boxes, and it can be used by cable subscribers and over-the-air viewers alike. For a description of VCR Plus+ and information on where to buy it, call (800) 2584-VCR (827).

If You Already Have a VCR Plus+ ...

The PlusCodes™ printed in Visions require that you assign KET to channel 1 on your VCR Plus+. To make this adjustment, press [CH], enter 01, and then enter the channel number on which you receive KET in your home. This one-time procedure is outlined and explained in more detail in the "Getting Started" manual that came with your VCR Plus+.

Each program has a different PlusCode for Eastern and Central time. To tape a show, enter the appropriate PlusCode into your VCR Plus+ and leave the device on or near your VCR, with the VCR turned off. The show will be automatically recorded. The VCR Plus+ can store up to 14 codes at a time.

For PlusCodes not listed in Visions, call our Membership Hotline at (800) 866-0366.

For technical assistance in using VCR Plus+, call (800) 4321-VCR (827).

FROM MUSSOLINI TO Madonna...

New Series Looks at Fame in the 20th Century

Charlie Chaplin

Who is truly famous—and why? From Mussolini to Madonna, Clive James' Fame in the 20th Century explores the changing nature of fame through this century, drawing on a stunning collection of news footage and Hollywood film clips. The eight-part series airs on four consecutive nights (two episodes per night) at 9:00/8:00 pm CT beginning Monday, June 7.

The series covers a range of personalities, tracing the development of celebrity as an extraordinary modern-day phenomenon and showing how the nature of fame has changed with the rise of the media in the 20th century. In previous eras, people became famous for what they had done; in the 20th century, many are famous just for who they are.

An interviewer and television critic, Clive James is one of Britain's most popular television personalities. In choosing the 250 famous people included in the series, he used two categories: people from the past who were so famous that their fame has lingered on, and a handful of current celebrities who are so famous now that you can reasonably suppose a measure of their fame might last.

"FAME COMES TO A POINT, LIKE A PIMPLE.
EVERY FAMOUS PERSON,
WHETHER HUGELY,
AVERAGELY, OR ONLY SLIGHTLY FAMOUS, HAS A MOMENT WHEN HE SUSPECTS THAT HE IS AS FAMOUS AS HE IS EVER GOING TO GET."

—Clive James

SILENT MOVIES AND NATIONAL HEROES

1900–26 • The birth of mass-circulation newspapers and the arrival of silent films made Douglas Fairbanks and Mary Pickford the king and queen of Hollywood and Charlie Chaplin the most recognizable human being on Earth. The sudden death of Rudolf Valentino is featured, as are President Teddy Roosevelt, Lawrence of Arabia, Houdini, Lenin, the Wright brothers, Henry Ford, and the Red Baron.

1927–33 • Heroes like Charles Lindbergh, Babe Ruth, and Jack Dempsey achieved a celebrity equal to that of movie stars. Prohibition made Al

Capone headline news. Sound arrived in Hollywood, and the Marx Brothers and Mae West turned the one-liner into an art form. The program also features F. Scott Fitzgerald, Ernest Hemingway, James Joyce, George Gershwin, Louis Armstrong, and Fred Astaire.

Tuesday, June 8

THE HEROES AND VILLAINS OF WAR; OL' BLUE EYES AND BOGIE

1933–40 • European dictators Benito Mussolini and Adolf Hitler used Hollywood-style techniques in their rise to power, with devastating effectiveness. By contrast, Franklin D. Roosevelt based his appeal on gentle paternalism. Also featured are George Bernard Shaw, Johnny Weissmuller, Albert Einstein, Bing Crosby, and Orson Welles.

1940–52 • The outbreak of war in Europe temporarily shifted the emphasis of fame away from show business and toward an old-fashioned style of fame, attained through military struggle and achievement. Churchill, de Gaulle, Rommel, Patton, MacArthur, and Montgomery played out the war in a battle of personalities. Entertainers featured in the program include Clark Gable, Humphrey Bogart, Frank Sinatra, Glenn Miller, Judy Garland, Rita Hayworth, and Errol Flynn.

THE MOVIES VS. TELEVISION; CAMELOT COMES TO WASHINGTON

1951–59 • Television arrived. The new medium created stars like Lucille Ball and Liberace. Hollywood countered with Marilyn Monroe. Hugh Hefner launched Playboy, Pablo Picasso enjoyed both fame and the good life, and one of the most famous icons of the entire century emerged—Elvis Presley. The program also features Grace Kelly, Joseph McCarthy, Marlon Brando, and Brigitte Bardot.

1960–69 • President John F. Kennedy looked like a film star, and his wife exuded glamour and sophistication. Another couple, Elizabeth Taylor and Richard Burton, made headlines. In pop music, the Beatles and then the Rolling Stones were front-page news. But fame had its risks—Kennedy and Martin Luther King Jr. were assassinated. Cassius Clay (Muhammed Ali), Sean Connery, Neil Armstrong, Charles Manson, and Paul Newman illustrate the diversity of fame.

WATERGATE AND MTV; EAST MEETS WEST

1972–77 • This episode focuses on the presidency of Richard M. Nixon as well as Hollywood antiheroes like Clint Eastwood as Dirty Harry and Robert De Niro in Taxi Driver. More wholesome heroes appeared from other parts of the world: Pele, Bjorn Borg, Bruce Lee. Also featured are the Osmonds, Howard Hughes, Salvador Dalí, Idi Amin, and Jack Nicholson.

1980–1993 • Ronald Reagan arrived in the White House. The fantasy wedding of Prince Charles and Lady Diana Spencer was beamed by satellite all over the world. Michael Jackson and Madonna renewed their fame by constantly transforming themselves. Arnold Schwarzenegger and Sylvester Stallone became national symbols. And political figures in the East, Gorbachev in particular, became celebrities in the West.

Clive James' Fame in the 20th Century is a BBC Television production in association with WQED/Pittsburgh.

Dine, Dance, and Bid!

By Mary Campbell

This year's Summer Celebration committee advises partygoers to "get out those dancing shoes and get ready to take to the dance floor" at this year's event, to be held Friday, June 11 beginning at 7:30 pm ET at Keeneland racecourse in Lexington.

"We're so pleased to have the fifth annual Summer Celebration party at Keeneland for KET's 25th anniversary year," said volunteer co-chairperson Joy Hinkle. "Keeneland and KET are two great Kentucky institutions that have come together to celebrate a milestone in KET's history."

The evening will feature a cocktail buffet; dancing to the music of City Lights of Nashville; and a silent auction that offers special gifts, decorative pieces, vacation packages, and entertainment items.

Auction items committee members have secured so far include tickets to Phantom of the Opera, which comes to Louisville in January 1994; an autographed cowboy hat belonging to Kentucky's own John Michael Montgomery and a copy of his newest compact disc, which just went "gold" according to the Billboard charts; a kitchen herb garden in an Italian dish; a case of French wine; a Barney the dinosaur package complete with doll, books, and videos; a golf package; a fishing trip with Kentucky Afield's Dave Shuffett; and antique jewelry.

Tickets are $50 per person, and Summer Celebration co-chairperson Rusty Cheuvront advises interested parties to make their reservations early.

"As past eventgoers will testify, this is one great evening of entertainment at a reasonable price. We've intentionally kept the price affordable so that as many supporters of KET as possible can attend," he said.

Last year a record 600 guests turned out for Summer Celebration, netting $45,000 for KET programming.

"We're out to set new records for this year's event," said Hinkle. "KET is such a valuable resource for Kentuckians—and you only have one 25th anniversary."

From Big Band to Boogie

"Whether you're an Evening at Pops fan or a Four Tops fan, Summer Celebration is the place to be," Hinkle said. "We selected our band, City Lights of Nashville, specifically because of its wide-ranging repertoire."

Plans call for big band music to be played in the early evening, with popular music from the '60s taking over for the latter part of the evening. A cocktail buffet will be served around 8:00 pm, and the silent auction will conclude at about 10:00 pm, so partygoers can make as early or late an evening of it as they like. Dancing continues until midnight.

Keeneland—A Rich Kentucky Tradition

Guests at KET's Summer Celebration this year will experience firsthand the postcard setting that is Keeneland: the arbored drive, the manicured lawns, the Japanese yew in the infield that spells out the name of the racecourse in bushy greenery.

"Keeneland should be the national park of racing," says Keeneland official Howard Battle. Its grounds are dotted by sugar maples, American hornbeams, dogwoods, lindens, white pines, crab apples, pin oaks, and a huge sycamore.

Designated a national historic landmark, Keeneland boasts one of the richest traditions of any racetrack in America. Since its first meeting in the fall of 1936, it has attracted such famous racehorses as Whirlaway, Northern Dancer, Alydar, and Spectacular Bid.

Keeneland's slogan, "Racing as it was meant to be," summarizes the Keeneland philosophy as expressed by Hal Price Headley, one of the track's founders. "We want a place where those who love horses can come and picnic with us and thrill to the sport of the Bluegrass," he said in the spring of 1937.

Other interesting notes:

- Queen Elizabeth II has attended the races at only one track in the United States—Keeneland. Her Majesty was on hand for the inaugural running of the Queen Elizabeth II Challenge Cup on October 11, 1984.
- Keeneland has never had a public address system, preferring, in the words of Keeneland board chairman James E. "Ted" Bassett III, "to emphasize the beauty of the horse, the pageantry, the tradition of racing—the emphasis being on the sporting aspects rather than the commercial."
- Calumet Farm, famed for its devil red and blue silks, has won more stakes races at Keeneland than any other owner, and native Kentuckian Don Brumfield ranks as the track's all-time leading jockey.
- Buyers from all parts of the world converge on Keeneland for various horse sales during the year. Winners of such races as the Kentucky Derby, Epsom Derby, Irish Derby, and French Derby have been sold at Keeneland.

The Universal Journey ♦

The seven-part Childhood series returns to KET this month as part of our continuing education offerings for child care providers. Shot on five continents, Childhood follows 12 families to explore how people of different lands and cultures help their children negotiate the universal journey from infancy to adulthood. It will air Mondays at 1:00 pm/12:00 noon CT beginning June 14.

For information on receiving credit toward Kentucky Cabinet for Human Resources child care licensing requirements through KET programs, call the KET Education Division at (800) 432-0951.

Shape Up with KET ♦ Body Electric is a daily low-impact workout whose host, Margaret Richard, offers alternative ways of doing routines so you can work at your own level. The half-hour programs will air on KET every weekday at 10:00/9:00 am CT beginning Monday, June 28.

College Comes to You ♦ The summer 1993 college credit telecourses air on KET in the afternoons beginning Saturday, June 12. This semester's courses are Discovering Psychology, Government by Consent, Personal Finance & Money Management, The Sociological Imagination, and Teaching Reading Comprehension. For a complete broadcast schedule or to get on the mailing list for future telecourse offerings, call (800) 432-0970.

How-To Schedule Changes ♦ To accommodate KET's summer learning projects for kids (see story on next page), several how-to series now airing at 11:00/10:00 am CT will move half an hour earlier starting the last week of June. The series affected are The Mexican Kitchen (moves to 10:30/9:30 am CT June 28), The Sewing Connection with Shirley Adams (June 29), Justin Wilson's Louisiana Cookin': At Home (June 30), and Stained Glass with Vicki Payne (July 1).

Beginning This Month ... ♦

Jerry Yarnell is back for a new season of The Inspiration of Painting Tuesdays at 1:00 pm/12:00 noon CT beginning June 1. Host Mike Lech and special guests build everything from circus wagons to volcanoes in the sixth season of Adventures in Scale Modeling (left), airing Tuesdays at 1:30/12:30 pm CT beginning June 1. Kaye Wood discusses creative techniques with guest designers in the fourth season of Quilting for the '90s, airing Thursdays at 1:00 pm/12:00 noon CT beginning June 3. And World of Collector Cars offers close-up looks at classic cars, do-it-yourself projects, and even rare old newsreels and commercials when it airs Wednesdays at 1:00 pm/12:00 noon CT beginning June 23.

Children's Programs Schedule Changes

At the end of June, KET will make several changes to our weekday schedule of children's programs. All of the following changes take effect Monday, June 28.

● At the request of many parents—and kids!—we are adding a second episode of Barney & Friends at 3:00/2:00 pm CT. The purple dinosaur and pals remain at 12:30 pm/11:30 am CT; each day's later program will repeat at lunchtime the next day.

● The repeat of Shining Time Station moves to 12:00 noon/11:00 am CT. Thomas the Tank and friends can still be seen at 8:00/7:00 am CT.

● The afternoon repeat of Mister Rogers' Neighborhood moves to 3:30/2:30 pm CT, between Barney & Friends and Sesame Street. Mister Rogers' morning time of 8:30/7:30 am CT does not change.

● Reading Rainbow moves to 5:00/4:00 pm CT.

Times for Sesame Street (7:00/6:00 am CT and 4:00/3:00 pm CT) and Where in the World Is Carmen Sandiego? (5:30/4:30 pm CT) will not change.

Summer Learning Activities for Kids

Reading Rainbow Book Club: KET is sponsoring the Reading Rainbow Book Club again this summer. To join, a student can read any book and send a short report on it to KET. In return, we will send each member a Reading Rainbow button—and some of the book reports will be read on the air! Each report should include the student's name, address, and age.

Reading Rainbow will move to 5:00/4:00 pm CT on Monday, June 28—so kids can spend their afternoons in the sunshine and still watch for their book reports.

Pre-registration is not necessary, but you can request book report forms from the address below.

Summer Math: If your 5th or 6th grader needs to work on math skills over the summer, KET can help with Summer Math, a vacation learning project built around the Math Works and Solve It series. After watching a program, Summer Math students complete an accompanying worksheet. The students—and their parents—also may call on a Summer Math tutor at KET through a toll-free phone number. At the end of the project, a certificate will be sent to each student who has completed the program.

Fifth graders may tune in to Math Works Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays at 11:00/10:00 am CT June 28 through July 28. Sixth graders watch Solve It Tuesdays and Thursdays at 11:00/10:00 am CT June 29 through July 27.

Summer Math is free, but advance registration is necessary. We want to enroll students who will make an effort to watch the series and complete worksheets over the summer. Parental support is critical, as parents are expected to help with and check the child's work.

The registration deadline is Friday, June 18; students must register by mail. For a sign-up form, call the KET Education Division at (800) 432-0951.

The Coronation

9:00/8:00 pm CT

Commemorating the 40th anniversary of the coronation of Queen Elizabeth II, this one-hour documentary is a collection of newsreel footage chronicling the event. Covering the preparations, the customs, and the ceremony itself, the program uses footage from British Pathé News, much of it never before broadcast.

The program provides not only a historical record but also a vivid recollection of Britain in the summer of 1953—the national obsession with royal ceremony and its rituals (from the making of the coronation robe to what a subject should wear to the ceremony) and the role of the media in covering such events. Original newsreel music and narration help re-create the feeling of the period.

Pete Seeger's Family Concert

12:30 pm/11:30 am CT

Wasn't That a Time!

The Weavers

1:30/12:30 pm CT

Folksinger Pete Seeger and his former partners in the Weavers (Lee Hays, Ronnie Gilbert, and Fred Hellerman) treat you to an afternoon of familiar and beloved songs.

Pete Seeger's Family Concert is a new concert performed before a group of families and nursery school children along the Hudson River. Seeger entertains the audience with favorites such as "Skip to My Lou," "This Land Is Your Land," "Abiyoyo," and "Lonesome Valley."

The Weavers were the first singing group to popularize folk music, forming a musical link between the big bands of the '40s and rock 'n' roll with songs about work, freedom, and love. Although the red-baiting testimony that destroyed their careers at the height of the McCarthy era was recanted 10 years later, the Weavers were never able to regain their former height of popularity.

Wasn't That a Time! The Weavers features the group in concert and rehearsal. Arlo Guthrie, Mary Travers, Holly Near, and Judy Collins discuss the impact the Weavers have had on American music. Concert portions include favorites such as "Kisses Sweeter Than Wine," "Goodnight Irene," and "The Places My Get-Up Has Been."

Roger & Me/Pets or Meat: The Return to Flint

9:00/8:00 pm CT

Filmmaker Michael Moore's award-winning, irreverent documentary returns with an update on what's happened to Moore, to his hometown of Flint, Mich., and to the rest of the country since it was first released.

Roger & Me is Moore's sardonic film odyssey chronicling his attempts to meet General Motors Chairman Roger Smith and convince him to visit Flint for a firsthand look at how the layoffs of more than 80,000 GM workers had devastated the town. Moore weaves a story that is at once hilarious and tragic out of the raw material of working-class people's lives.

Since the release of Roger & Me, Smith has retired; GM has announced that it will close yet another Flint plant by 1995, eliminating an additional 4,036 jobs; and the new chairman, Robert Stempel, has said GM will cut 74,000 employees nationwide, effectively reducing its work force to half what it was in 1985.

In the update, Pets or Meat: The Return to Flint, Moore revisits many Flint citizens featured in the original film. And he's on Smith's trail again, too, offering to help out his Roger & Me "costar," whose retirement package was cut by $100,000, leaving him only $1 million a year to get by on.

East Wind, West Wind: Pearl Buck, the Woman Who Embraced the World

9:00/8:00 pm CT

In December 1938, the Nobel Committee's coveted prize for literature was awarded to American-born author Pearl Sydenstricker Buck for her novel The Good Earth. She still holds the distinction of being the only American woman ever to receive that prize.

Narrated by Eva Marie Saint, this documentary chronicles the life of the celebrated author. Born in West Virginia at the turn of the century and raised in rural China, she became one of the most popular writers of the 20th century.

A blend of oral history and historical footage, including the writer's personal home movies as well as those of neighbors in Nanking, China, the documentary forms an intimate and intriguing portrait of this multi-faceted woman, who used her celebrity to call attention to the important issues of her day and to promote understanding between Asia and the West.

EVENING AND WEEKEND SCHEDULE

Special Session

If the Kentucky General Assembly special session on health care reform extends into June, KET will continue daily legislative coverage on the schedule we established in May: Monday through Thursday at 8:00/7:00 pm CT and Friday at 10:00/9:00 pm CT. The programs listed here at those times will be preempted; we will make every effort to reschedule them.

Editor's Note: These program listings are prepared in advance and are correct at the time of printing. Last-minute schedule changes may cause the listing for an individual program to be incomplete or incorrect at the time of broadcast. KET apologizes for any inconvenience such discrepancies may cause our viewers.

Declarations of Independents

If you have a taste for offbeat but heartfelt and personalized storytelling, tune in Saturday nights at 11:00/10:00 pm CT for Independent TV, KET's salute to America's independent filmmakers. On June 5, Ellen Spiro and canine sidekick Sam (above) hit the Southern backroads to learn about small-town gay life in "Greetings from Out Here." Other offerings this month ride the rails with a modern breed of hobos, pay tribute to a Texas AIDS activist, and visit the rough-and-tumble world of Louisiana politics.

A Princely Balancing Act

Prince Charles: The Earth in Balance, airing Wednesday, June 2 at 10:00/9:00 pm CT, is a one-hour essay written and presented by the Prince of Wales as he considers the great environmental issues facing the world. The program repeats Sunday, June 6 at 2:00/1:00 pm CT, when it will be followed by H.R.H. Prince Charles: A Personal View of Architecture, in which the prince offers observations on another subject he is passionate about: the environment humans have built for themselves.

The Blimp Is Back!

The history of airships as a mode of transportation is marred by accidents, the most devastating being the Hindenberg tragedy. But could they still make a comeback? Nova examines the question in "The Blimp Is Back!," airing Tuesday, June 8 at 8:00/7:00 pm CT. Pictured is a view of the lounge inside the transatlantic zeppelin R 100, circa 1929.

Sensory Perceptions

Using special equipment such as a camera buggy outfitted to look like a small bush animal, Nature allows viewers to experience the world through animal senses in "Supersense," a three-part series beginning Sunday, June 6 at 8:00/7:00 pm CT. Using breakthroughs in special-effects filming—and a variety of imaginative techniques—the series takes viewers into a pride of lions and on flights with birds.

Saying Kaddish—Wednesday, June 16 at 10:00/9:00 pm CT

Scenes from the Frontier

Nineteenth-century artist Frederic Remington, best known for his scenes of life in the American West, is the subject of "Frederic Remington: The Truth of Other Days," airing on American Masters Monday, June 14 at 8:00/7:00 pm CT. Narrated by Gregory Peck, the film features location photography in Wyoming, upstate New York, and Texas as well as archival footage, vintage feature films, period photographs, rarely seen works of art, and interviews with historians and scholars.

Dick's Pick

The Dakota Conflict and The American Experience "Last Stand at the Little Bighorn"

Monday, June 14 beginning at 9:00/8:00 pm CT

I have two picks for June, both on the theme of the United States' relations with its Native American population.

The Dakota Conflict describes what was known as "The Sioux Uprising." In August of 1862, while the eyes of most Americans were focused on the Civil War, a fierce battle broke out between white European settlers and the Dakota

Indian population of Minnesota. By the end of the year, the death toll was in the hundreds, and thousands of Dakota were imprisoned. At the direction of President Lincoln, 38 Dakota were hanged in a public execution the day after Christmas.

The story of this violent chapter in U.S. history, its causes and its aftermath, is told through diaries, old photographs, newspaper archives, sketchbooks, trial transcripts, and oral histories. Floyd Red Crow Westerman, an Eastern Dakota who played Ten Bears in Dances with Wolves, and author/radio personality Garrison Keillor narrate

In "Last Stand at the Little Bighorn," The American Experience takes us to 1876 and the most famous battle between U.S. forces and Native Americans. "Custer's Last Stand" is one of the most frequently depicted moments in U.S. history—and one of the least understood. This battle, which left no white survivors, did leave two widely varying accounts of what occurred: one white, one Indian. Using journals, oral accounts, Indian ledger drawings, and archival and feature film, "Last Stand at the Little Bighorn" examines this watershed in history from both viewpoints. Pulitzer Prize-winning writer N. Scott Momaday narrates.

These programs are not the typical "cowboy and Indian" fare many of us grew up on. They are, though, both interesting and informative presentations. As we look at the world around us today, there is a place for recalling our own history of not so terribly long ago.

On the Issues "Battles in the Boardroom"—Sunday, June 20 at 10:00/9:00 pm CT

Revisiting Vietnam

The acclaimed documentary series Vietnam: A Television History returns to KET Tuesdays at 10:00/9:00 pm CT beginning June 22. The 13 programs chronicle the events and effects of America's longest and most divisive war from shortly after World War II, when the French empire in Southeast Asia began to crumble from within, through the escalating U.S. involvement of the 1960s to the American withdrawal in 1975

Music from Moscow

Two programs airing on KET Wednesday, June 23 offer virtuoso musical performances from Russia's capital city and a chance to reflect on the astonishing changes of the past few years.

At 8:00/7:00 pm CT, Vladimir Feltsman in Moscow: Journey from Home follows the pianist, once labeled a "non-person" by the government of the Soviet Union, as he accepts an invitation to return to his homeland to perform for the first time since emigrating to the U.S. in 1987. Within weeks of issuing that invitation, the government—and the Soviet Union itself—would cease to exist.

In the program's concert segments, Feltsman performs works by Bach, Mozart, and fellow former dissident Alfred Schnittke.

Another pianist makes a triumphant return to Russia in Kentucky Center Presents: Moscow Engagement with Laurence Leighton Smith, following at 9:00/8:00 pm CT. This 1990 KET production features Smith, music director of The Louisville Orchestra, conducting the Moscow Philharmonic as well as a performance by Sofia Cosma, a Romanian-born pianist who was sent to a Siberian labor camp shortly before World War II.

In addition to works by Saint-Saens, Copland, and Californian Stephen Hartke, the program features a tour of Moscow at a time when glasnost was a new idea just beginning to create changes in Soviet life—though no one could have predicted just how far those changes would go.

A First Lady's Life

The Story of Lady Bird Johnson profiles one of America's most remarkable women—from her childhood days in rural Texas to her years as first lady and into the present. The program, which airs Wednesday, June 30 at 8:00/7:00 pm CT, combines archival photos from the Lyndon Baines Johnson Presidential Library; comments by friends, family members, and former LBJ administration officials; and an in-depth interview with Lady Bird herself.

THE BOTTOM LINE

Last month I gave you the good news and the bad news about KET's funding sources.

The bad news is that we will enter fiscal year 1994 next month with $1,976,400 less in state funds than we entered FY '92 with. At the same time, PBS program fees have increased more than $525,000. Added together, that leaves us with a negative cash impact of $2.5 million.

The good news is that we are doing everything possible in the way of fund-raising and grant writing so that this negative cash impact will not affect KET's ability to help prepare Kentucky for the 21st century—to help push Kentucky to its economic, technological, political, artistic, and educational potential.

Thus far, our revenue-raising efforts have brought us record-breaking TeleFund donations and a number of grants. Moreover, the technology of our new telecommunications center has improved our efficiency by allowing us to produce better programming at lower cost.

The most recent outcome of KET's fund-raising/cost-cutting efforts and our increased technological capacity is Capital Link. Throughout the special session on health care, KET and the Kentucky Cable Television Association have partnered to deliver live, unedited, continuous coverage of both houses and various committees of the General Assembly directly into Kentucky homes.

Getting Capital Link off the ground for a trial run without spending additional money required KET to use a technology never used before in the state and rarely used in the nation: compression. Essentially, compression involves shrinking video signals so that more programming can be sent out simultaneously without buying more satellite space. GTE Spacenet of McLean, Va. is lending us the equipment for the pilot project at no cost.

Capital Link will eventually play a vital role in the political development of the Commonwealth as a permanent window into the state's decision-making arena. Even so, it is only one of many KET services which are critical to Kentucky's development. Others include delivering advanced high school courses where they were not previously available; maintaining a statewide computer network which links students and teachers; producing programs to showcase Kentucky's regional arts; and offering lifelong educational opportunities.

Maintaining these vital services in our current fiscal condition has required us to look at the increasing PBS bill. Of course, we would never consider cutting any of the PBS "staples." But we are looking at ways to restructure the amount and type of programming the PBS contract locks us into, so that we may free up funds for Kentucky programming and services.

It is a critical time in Kentucky's history. As never before, our ability to compete requires an advanced technological and educational infrastructure. These are precisely the areas in which KET has become a national leader. Any spending reductions we undertake will not jeopardize that position but rather enhance it. In so doing, we will be enhancing the opportunities for our citizens and the future of our state.

KET NEWS

KET Volunteers Recognized

The first O. Leonard Press Friends Service Award was presented to Friends of KET board member Irma LaFollette of Murray at the 1993 KET Volunteer Recognition Luncheon, held in April at the O. Leonard Press Telecommunications Center in Lexington. Accepting for LaFollette, who was also being honored by several organizations in Murray that day, was her daughter, Mary Sue Kallander of Hamilton, Ohio.

LaFollette has served KET in many capacities over the years. Western Kentuckians are well aware of KET because of her efforts in promoting KET programming and related services in that area.

Several other volunteers received special recognition from KET Development Director Shae Martin for their work in promoting TeleFund '93. Outgoing Friends Board President Carrie Cinnamond, Pikeville; board member Dorothy Altman, Williams-town; and Pulaski County Coordinator Daphne Blevins were recognized for leading volunteer efforts in overall promotion activity and for securing business marquee in their communities to promote the on-air membership drive.

Tommy Hines Jr. of Morgantown was elected the new Friends Board president.

Lexington Artist Donates Sculpture to KET Network Center

The latest addition to KET's headquarters is "The Big Red TV," a giant sculpture, artistically representing a television, created by Lexington artist Joe Petro III.

The screen and "balloon" are left blank in order to ask people to use their imagination, according to Petro. "I thought the sculpture fit KET—education and imagination."

In addition to the names of several Central Kentuckians who privately funded the construction and mounting of the sculpture, the following quote from the late television journalist Edward R. Murrow will be inscribed on the plaque: "Television can teach. It can illuminate. Yes, it can even inspire. But it can do so only to the extent that humans are determined to use it to those ends. Otherwise, it is merely lights and wires in a box."

Bluegrass Railroad Museum To Stage Train Robbery To Benefit KET

All aboard! Take a trip back into the 1860s June 19 and 20 on the Bluegrass Scenic Railroad and participate in a reenactment of the first train robbery in the United States.

The Bluegrass Railroad Museum of Central Kentucky and the Seventh Light Infantry, a Civil War reenactment group from Corydon, Ind., are sponsoring a reenactment of the first train robbery staged by the infamous Reno Brothers. Passengers aboard the Bluegrass Scenic Railroad will be "robbed" by a band of outlaws; donations—which are not included in the ticket price—will benefit KET programming.

The fund-raiser is open to the public. Train fare is $6 for adults, $4 for children ages 3-12, and $5 for senior citizens. The train departs from Versailles at 10:30 am, 1:30 pm, 3:30 pm, and 5:30 pm on Saturday, June 19 and at 1:30, 3:30, and 5:30 pm on Sunday, June 20 (all times Eastern). For more information, call (606) 873-2476 or (800) 755-2476.

When Will I Get My Premium?

To all those members who selected premiums during TeleFund but haven't received them yet, thank you for being so patient.

We have had some unexpected delays on a few of the items. The Barney & Friends rollbag has been recalled by the manufacturer. The distributor estimates that new bags will be delivered to KET in six to eight weeks.

Because we had so many requests, we have had to reorder the following premiums: the Bluegrass Winners cookbook; the Anne of Green Gables book, wildflower seeds, bookmarks, and doll; the Sesame Street sleeping bag; and the Barney cassette, video library, and poster.

We are processing and mailing the premiums as fast as we can, and as soon as the back-ordered items are received, we'll send them to you. If you have any questions, please call Membership Information at (800) 866-0366.

Thank you for supporting KET—and for your patience.

Members' Names Are Safe with Us

One of the easiest ways for organizations to bring in much-needed funds is to sell or trade their membership databases. KET is frequently approached by companies wanting to purchase our Friends of KET list for mailings and solicitations. Once these names are sold or traded, they could potentially end up on hundreds of mailing lists.

But don't be concerned! Our Friends are very important to us, and we respect your privacy. KET does not sell, trade, or otherwise distribute names, addresses, or other personal information about our members. Your name is safe with us.

Thank You, Dawahare's

The nationally touring Bloomington Youth Chorus joined the Lexington Children's Choir for a performance of Malcolm Dalglish's Hymnody of Earth March 27 at KET. For the taping, the Lexington children wore silk shirts donated by Dawahare's. Look for the KET production of Hymnody, which features poetry by Kentucky's Wendell Berry set to original music by Dalglish, later this year.

Splash Into Summer with a KET T-Shirt

You can tell everyone you're "Glad There's KET" by sporting a cool-looking KET T-shirt in a bright, summer color. Choose from jade, purple, turquoise, and hot pink.

Children's shirts are $12 each and are available in small (6-8), medium (10-12), and large (14-16). Adults' shirts are $14 each and are available in small (34-36), medium (38-40), large (42-44), X-large (46-48), and XX-large (50-52). Prices include tax and delivery.

Please make checks or money orders payable to KET and mail them to Membership Department, KET, 600 Cooper Drive, Lexington, KY 40502-2296. Or call (800) 866-0366 to charge your purchase.
